“...report facts and not fiction,”- Father Patolo to the Samoa Observer

By: Nanai Taofiga Laveitiga Tuiletufuga

Father Patolo Talo Matiasi, the priest who led the Vaiusu Catholic Church Mass Service Sunday has described the Samoa Observer's front page story headlined, "Police enforce S.O.E. orders: remove churchgoers as the "work of fiction."

"One church service that was disrupted on Sunday was the Vaiusu Catholic Church with the Samoa Observer witnessing a group of Police officers walking in and moving out churchgoers after they did a headcount of the congregation," the article stated.

But Father Patolo who led the Mass Services on the Sunday in question has rubbished the claim, saying Police were never at the church before, during and after the Mass and the claim that they moved out churchgoers is untrue and fictitious. "There were no Police at our Mass Service on Sunday," he attested. "And if there were no police, how can they remove churchgoers from the Mass."

He also dismissed claims that he was not available for comment as the service continued after the Police officers' visit.

"I was not aware that Police were at the Mass Service because there weren't any before, during and after," refuted Father Patolo. "And after reading the article, I even asked members of the Congregation if any of the Samoa Observer people SNPF Chief Executive has labelled a front page Samoa Observer published this week "Fake News" in a Letter to the Editor. Also published is a follow up Q&A between the Fund's Chief Executive and the reporter who authored the article.

RE; Front Page article headlined; S.N.P.F. on the radar for farewell parties, staff uniforms written by Joyetter Feagaimaali'i

I write to correct the fake news in your newspaper today;

1. "The loss of over half a million tala". There was never any loss at all. This specifically refers to the accounts of the Samoa Senior Citizens Benefit Fund (SCBF) whose budget is allocated from the MoF. For this particular year in question, the SCBF spent more than was allocated from the Treasury –

H.R.P.P. returns $200,000 allocation to Government

(GOVT. PRESS SECRETARIAT); The $200,000 allocation approved in the Legislative Assembly's Fiscal Year Budget 2020-2021 for the Human Rights Protection Party (HRPP) has been reabsorbed back in the budget to assist the country in its collective response to the COVID 19.

This was approved in a Cabinet directive FK (20)30 on 29th July 2020, almost a month ago, prior to the Samoa Observer splashing front page headlined "Ruling H.R.P.P. gets $200,000 from Legislative Assembly" published Sunday, 30th August 2020.

Being very mindful of government's tireless efforts to keep Samoa COVID free, the HRPP caucus at a meeting a week after the 2020-2021

Budget was approved, unanimously agreed to keep the allocation in the budget to assist our national efforts to safeguard Samoa from the virus.

"The decision to reprioritize the said allocation is a Cabinet directive and this has been executed accordingly" confirmed by the Chief Executive of the Ministry of Prime Minister and Cabinet and Secretary to Cabinet - Agafili Tomaimano Shem Leo.

The annual allocation is distributed to registered political parties recognized in Parliament as required under the House Standing Orders. A Political Party is mandated have no less than 8 members of Parliament to be recognized in the House, and to qualify for this allocation.

From afar- Ari Hazelman

By: Eirenei Ariu Toleafoa

"I do trust in God and also trust that our government has our best interests in mind," is the message from Japan penned by Ari Hazelman, a Samoan student unable to return home due to the COVID19 pandemic.

Hazelman is the first from the Asia Pacific Region to have successfully completed the Duskin Leadership Training Program for persons with disabilities in Japan.

He ended his 10 months training earlier in the year but cannot return home as a result of the border security control due to the COVID19.

And the vocal flag carrier for his country and Nuanua ole Alofa, (NOLA), the 31 year old son to Steve and Gina Hazelman is ecstatic with the news of a repatriation flight for students like himself and Samoa Citizens in Japan, China, Australia and Pacific.

"With regards to the repatriation arrangements, I and no doubt all the rest of us studying abroad hope for the best but we trust that government will take into account all important and safety factors to enable us to return home if possible," he wrote to the Savali via Messenger.

"In the meantime, all we can do is pray and prepare and hope, while at the same time continue to network with the people of our host countries and thank God for their kindness to us during these hard times."

Tentatively the plan is for the group to assemble in Australia where a chartered flight will fly them home.

Based on his observations from the local media coverage which include the Government's Press Secretariat and Savali Social Media Live Stream by the Prime Minister, Ari with visual impairment says that Government is making hard decisions and it's for the best interest of the country.

"Yes I do believe that the safety of our people should be the first priority and I believe that even though the current SOE measures are not only difficult for our people within Samoa but also difficult for so many of us who are wanting to return home but I totally understand why government have put these measures in place," said Hazelman.

"I came to Japan just before the measles outbreak and then while it was going on, I was observing from afar and it was very difficult to be away from home knowing that our people were going through hardships because of the measles outbreak so we do not need the Corona virus to enter our shores."

He is appealing for Samoan students and residents waiting to be repatriated home to trust Government with their plans.

Hazelman is in daily contact with his parents and relatives reassuring his safety.

And he acknowledges the media coverage from Samoa.

He send his special thanks to the government of Samoa for making it possible for them and other Samoans who are stranded around the world because of the pandemic COVID-19, to keep in touch and enable to get important government information through the Radio 2AP and also the broadcasting of the weekly program with the Prime Minister.

"I am extremely thankful to our government for making Radio 2AP available online and also the broadcasting of the program with the Prime Minister and other important information that is of the utmost importance during these difficult times.

"This is a very important development as it has brought home closer to me and doubtless to many other stranded Samoan students and citizens who needed and access to important information from home during this time."

New Lady Samoa III to be delivered in 2022

Chief Executive Officer of Lands and Transports Authority, Galumalemana Ta'atialeoititi Tutuvanu-Schwalger with the Ministry of Shipping Papaliitele Unasa Niko Lee Hang at the official opening of the success Vaisigano bridge

By: Yumi Epati Tala'ave

A bigger and faster Lady Naomi 111 for domestic and inter-island travel is tentatively scheduled to be delivered and commissioned in two years' time, Minister of Shipping Papaliitele Unasa Niko Lee Hang confirms.

The Minister's clarification reaffirms the announcement by Japan's Ambassador to Samoa, Genichi Terasawa in his commencement remarks, to officially commission the Vaisigano Bridge last Friday, also funded by a grant of $44 million from Tokyo.

"In October last year, Honorable Prime Minister Tuilaepa and Prime Minister ABE agreed to the new grant project to construct a new ship to connect between Samoa and overseas. The new ship is expected to go into service two years from now," assured the Ambassador in his address.

Papaliitele added that initially the new Lady Naomi III was slated to be operational in time for the 2021 General Elections in April however the COVID19 pandemic has led to delays.

Nonetheless, the Minister says that primarily, the new Lady's primary routes will include domestic services between Mulifanua and Salelologa complemented by the inter-island route between the two Samoas.

"The vessel also has the capacity for charter sailings to our neighbouring Pacific Islands such as Tonga and Cook Islands if needed," he added.

In negotiating for the new vehicular, passenger and cargo Lady Naomi III, Papaliitele noted that it was agreed by both the Governments of Japan and Samoa that after the provision of the Lady Samoa III several years ago, Tokyo would cease her passenger and cargo vessels for Samoa grant funding.

"However, our request to the Government of Japan for re-consideration due to the genuine need to improve transport shipping services was accepted," explained the Minister. And the end result, the Lady Naomi III which is fully funded by the Government of Japan will be delivered in two years' time.

Samoa eligible to receive COVID 19 vaccine

By: Asenati Taugasolo Semu

Government has taken the necessary actions to ensure that once a COVID19 medically approved vaccine is available, Samoa will be eligible to receive the vaccines.

This was confirmed by Prime Minister Tuilaepa Sailele Malielegaoi last Friday, during his weekly program 'Taimi ma le Palemia' with TV1.

"I gave my approval for Samoa to be included in this group of countries so that we can immediately get our supply of the vaccine once a medically certified and safe COVID 19 vaccine is available," said Tuilaepa.

"Until then, our border control security measures will not be fully relaxed,"

And in for the time being, the Prime Minister is again reiterating the better safe than sorry message.

Although Samoa is still COVID 19 free, the Prime Minister again urges the people to continue with the pandemic prevention measures. And most importantly keep the faith alive.

Tuilaepa's optimism is prompted by the announcement from Canberra for the Pacific countries including Samoa, which have been granted access to a COVID19 vaccine funded by the Australian Government at a cost of AUST$80 million.

Australia's contribution will help secure COVID-19 vaccines for Pacific Island and Southeast Asian countries, said a Government press statement.

The AMC will address the acute phase of the pandemic, providing doses for up to 20 percent of countries' populations in its first phase, ensuring that health care workers and vulnerable groups, such as the elderly, have access."

Pacific countries eligible for COVAX AMC support include Papua New Guinea, Solomon Islands, Vanuatu, Fiji, Samoa, Tonga, Tuvalu and Kiribati.

Eligible countries from Southeast Asia are Indonesia, Timor-Leste, Cambodia, Laos, Myanmar, The Philippines and Vietnam.

Australia works together with the United Kingdom, Canada, Italy and Norway in driving this international investment in vaccine manufacturing and procurement.

The COVAX AMC forms part of the wider COVAX Facility, a global mechanism designed to enable rapid, fair and equitable access to COVID-19 vaccines to end the acute phase of the pandemic by 2021.

“The Bridge of Faith,”- PM Tuilaepa

By: Joshua Lafa’i

“The Vaisigano Bridge is our “bridge of faith”, to span the uncertainty of now and a highly challenging future as we begin to forge a way through COVID 19.

“Together we can build a bridge to future prosperity,” says Prime Minister Tuilaepa Dr. Sailele Malielegaoi in his address to officially open the $44 million tala bridge financed by grant funding providing by the Government of Japan Vaisigano Bridge Friday.

As the gateway between the Matautu Harbor and the rest of the Apia Central Business District, the brand new climate and flood resilient bridge also resonates the Government’s impeccable financial accountability in spending grant funding to the letter as allocated by developments partners.

The Japanese funded project had been in the pipeline for Samoa since 2013, and seven years later, it’s become a reality.

“The completion of this project goes hand in hand with the long term vision of the Government of Samoa for the prosperity and future of our people,” continued from the podium.

“It is updated infrastructure to battle the harsh effects of natural disasters and especially the connection from the wharf at Matautu and the rest of the country,” he added.

On the local front, Tuilaepa complimented Samoa’s ingenuity and expertise acknowledging the contribution by 6 locally owned companies.

“The Vaisigano Bridge project not only ensured the up-skilling of national personnel but also offered employment opportunities to our workforce. As well, the construction of the new Vaisigano

Prime Minister Tuilaepa Sailele Malielegaoi and Japan’s Ambassador Mr Genichi Terasawa unveiling the Vaisigano bridge plaque.

Bridge utilized materials and services provided by our local firms of Apia Concrete Products, Betham Brothers Enterprises and Ott Constructors,” he complimented.

The Vaisigano Bridge is part of a larger scale project that’s been under the Government’s watch for the last decade.

This includes upstream of the Vaisigano river and water catchment areas and Lelata bridge.

“The construction of the Vaisigano Bridge complements the continuing work under the Vaisigano Catchment project that uses a ridge to reef approach and is funded under climate finance facilities to enhance climate resilience of communities,” elaborated the Prime Minister. “Furthermore the Vaisigano Bridge adds complementarity to the recently upgraded Apia Port which was also funded by the Government of Japan. The Vaisigano catchment project will fund the upgrading of the Lelata Bridge.”

“I wish to thank all the businesses that had to withstand such a long time, your patience during this development is appreciated,” he concluded.

were there or had asked for a comment and they all said no.”

He also questioned the front page photo accompanying the article. “That’s is not from our parish. The photo was taken elsewhere and printed to mislead the readers. It’s unethical and unprofessional.”

The photo has been verified as taken a year ago from a different event and not last Sunday.

He said that he called the newspaper’s office Monday afternoon and was reassured by the woman receptionists that a Correction and Apology would be issued.

Father Patolo who has been in charge of the Catholic Parish at Vaiusu, Lepea and Tuamua says that the article is a huge discredit to the Ministry of Police and their diligent enforcement not to mention undermine the country’s leaders efforts to protect Samoa from the COVID19.

And he is advising the newspaper and reporters to “report facts and not fiction.”

Father Patolo came forward on his own will to the Savali after reading the article.

Security guard at the church Patatau Fogavaiusu also contacted the Savali to dismiss the Samoa Observer’s saying that the Parish had their normal Mass at 8:30am without any interference by Police.

simple as that. We cannot stop our services to our elderly community simply because the budget allocation has run out – it's a matter of common sense. Since then, we have rectified this problem by securing a more substantial allocation for SCBF from the MoF - $28 million tala approved for the new FY 20-21 – a 40% increase from previous years signifying the government's ongoing commitment to the wellbeing of our elderly and retired ua afu le tautua mo le atunuu.

2. "Purchase of Uniforms". FK (15) 13 allows the funding of uniforms for special purposes and occasions. However, the Fund has always paid only 50% of the cost while the other 50% is funded by the employee. In 2017, we had a uniform for the 55th Independence celebrations on which occasion the entire staff marched in triumphant commemoration.

3. "Farewell parties". The fact that you put this in the plural when the audit report only indicates one Board-approved farewell function demonstrates your newspaper's ever-increasing fondness for fake news! Anyway, the management response was noted in your article.

The above and all the other matters raised have already been clarified with the Audit Office and in front of relevant parliamentary committees as is the usual process year-on-year. Next time you should ask the Audit Office for a clarification instead of rushing to conclusions in an attempt to put a negative light on the Fund.

Soifua

Pauli Prince Suhren
Chief Executive Officer

SAMOA NATIONAL PROVIDENT FUND.

RE; PAULI RESPONSE TO FEGAIMALI'I INQUIRIES 1st September 2020;

i) Are you suggesting the Auditor General has made a mistake? If so, how did this happen and why did you not take the opportunity to correct him when it was presented as part of the audit process?

This is what happens when you jump the gun and print a report that has not even been tabled in parliament – making you stand like-ly in breach of parliamentary standing orders. So let me educate you; the report you printed is strictly for internal processes only i.e. between the audit office, parliament and the government. The audit office reports to parliament. Parliament scrutinizes these reports and holds the government (SNPF included) to account. Within that process is an intricate web of meetings, reports, counter reports, more meetings and ends when the audit report is tabled by the relevant committee in parliament and the government has a final chance to respond. Only then is the report made public because by then all the matters raised by the audit will have either been sufficiently clarified or remedial action is taken by the government as a result.

However, instead of waiting for the final report as I have tried to explain above, you have gone ahead and published something that is only partially complete because the process of scrutiny is still ongoing.

So to answer your question; the Auditor General is doing his job and a fine one at that. The relevant parliamentary committee(s) is doing its job. We are doing our job. When all that is done, you will have a clearer understanding of the issues.

ii) You seek to draw a distinction between the Samoa Senior Citizens Benefit Fund (S.S.C.B.F.) and the NPF. According to information provided by the Government of Samoa to the International Labour Organisation the S.S.C.B.F. is:

The benefits and administrative costs are funded by the government and the Samoa National Provident Fund Board is also responsible for the management and operations of the program. SNPF vehicles are used each month to transport pay teams around the country to deliver the cash payments. Staff support, audit and information technology services are also provided by the SNPF as part of its corporate responsibility to the community.

Do you deny administrative responsibility for the S.S.C.B.F.? Are you implying it is the Ministry of Finance that is responsible for the S.S.C.B.F.? If so, when did these arrangements change?

Joyetter – I am disappointed. You know why? You are the so called Chief Reporter of the award-winning Samoa Observer and yet it seems that everyone knows the distinction between the SNPF, the SCBF and the PPS except for you. So allow me to enlighten you once again; the three are separate entities with separate funding. The only thing linking them together is the fact that they are all under my command and share the same Minister. Other than that, they are as distinct as the moon is from the sun and the stars.

SNPF is self-funding. PPS (the Parliamentary Pension Scheme) is funded in the main by the contributions of members of parliament. SCBF (Senior Citizens Benefit Fund) is funded directly and fully from the MoF budget.

Therefore, while it is correct to say that all three are SNPF related – the fact remains they are 3 separate entities.

Finally, show me where in my previous response I denied responsibility for the SCBF? For the record and on the contrary, I take full responsibility for all three entities.

iii) Have you written to the Auditor to correct what you argue are the errors in his report? If so, when did you do so? Can you provide a copy of the correspondence?

I refer you to my previous response below.

93% of 323 Samoan Sailors re-employed during COVID19

By: Joshua Lafoa'i

Samoan sailors employed by the Mediterranean Shipping Company, (MSC) are all safe and not under any immediate danger from the COVID-19.

The reassurance from the Chief Executive Officer of the Samoa Shipping Services (SSS) Lautimuia Afoa Uelese Va'ai is in response to concerns for the safety of the sailors which have continuously resurfaced on the social media and media outlets.

Despite the severing distance from home, Lautimuia says he can confirm that all 323 Samoan sailors employed on the MSC fleet in different locations around the globe are free of COVID19 and are at minimal or no risk of ever contracting it.

Also on the upside, Lautimuia confirms that the majority or 93% of the 323 Samoan sailors employed by the MSC fleet are back on the job despite the employment impact felt across the globe with the shipping industry not exempted.

Reiterated the SSS Chief Executive, "An estimated 300 sailors have already started working again, while the rest are either awaiting re-employment confirmation or working part time.

"We have kept close contact and constant contact with our sailors during this whole ordeal. Especially when they need us most," he added.

With the repatriation of students from China, Japan and Australia whom have completed their scholarships already in the talks for Samoa, Lautimuia says the efforts to keep Samoa COVID19 free are still a priority.

"Right now the main job is to ensure that the shipping companies that employ our sailors are looking after them well, and if there was anything they need from us, we have to make sure were there to answer," he said.

As for repatriation of sailors, Lautimuia says the SSS will stand by the preventative measures taken by Government in keeping Samoa safe.

"Until our borders open, this is the best we can do for our sailors. They're all doing well, with most of back at work during the pandemic. We do our part and await Cabinets orders at this point," he added.

Government repatriations have been successful keeping the COVID19 virus at bay.

Meanwhile, the National Emergency Operations Center have been tasked by Cabinet to explore ways to repatriate Samoan students marooned in China, Japan and Australia.

Members of the OEC during the Gagaifomauga #3 by-election over the weekend.

La'auli wins election, awaits swearing in

By: Joshua Lafoa'i

While La'auli Leuatea Polataivao Schmidt is the official winner of the Gagaifomauga #3 by-election, it does not end the process for the Office of the Electoral Commission.

From the by-election results, it has been determined that an estimated 500 registered voters did not cast their ballot.

And Commissioner of the Electoral Commission Faimalomatumua Mathew Lemisio and staff are reviewing the issue as required by law. And voters who do not abide may face court prosecution.

"We've been told that quite a few of those who weren't able to vote were overseas for seasonal work, others have passed away, so were looking into it at the moment," said the Electoral Commissioner.

"It's possible around 200 to 300 of those who didn't vote could be overseas for seasonal work or have passed away. Legally, we cannot remove a name from the rolls unless we satisfy all criteria mandated under the law," he added.

However, he says the OEC will begin to comb through the list.

The fines for those who are eligible to vote but have not registered is $2,000 tala for the first time caught, but if they do not register a second time around, the fine will hop to $4,000 tala.

For those who have registered but have not cast a vote, the fine will be a $100 tala.

Faimalomatumua also addressed multiple complaints regarding the mobile registration system the OEC had been carrying out. He says while the routes have been established, the OEC will again roll out in the coming weeks to revisit all locations.

"We want everyone to exercise their right to vote, so we hear the queries and were coming out again," he added.

With the official declaration by the Head of State, the next step for La'auli is to be sworn in. That will be left to the Speaker of Parliament to announce.
