2nd Phase for National ID initiated

By: Nanai Taofiga Laveitiga Tuiletufuga

Samoa is on her way to having her very own National Identification Card. This is the reassurances from Prime Minister Tuilaepa Sailele Malielegaoi in launching the Second Phase via live stream video link with the Norway Consultants contracted to work with the Samoa Bureau of Statistics and Ministry of Communication, Information and Technology realise the national project.

In his address, the Prime Minister acknowledged that the identification card has been in the government's thinking tank since 2017 when Cabinet gave the initial green light but funding delayed the implementation until the 2018.

A blessing in disguise, he says that Government tapped into the US$4 million savings from Samoa Connectivity Project (Tui Samoa Fibre Optic Cable) with full endorsement from the funding source, the World Bank in 2018 to jump start the National ID initiative.

And last night's Second Phase launching provide is a milestone but rewarding because it included live engagement via video link between the Norway consultants, the public and business sector to brainstorm.

"With the changes in technology couple with the country's economic growth, the timing is right," said the Prime Minister noting that overall the National ID is more than a cost effective investment but will create new jobs for many Samoans graduating from universities every year. But most importantly, added Tuilaepa, the ID card will improve the deliverance of public services to the people.

"The National new ID has the potential to replace our voters ID and can be used as a Health or Medical ID, and other services such Samoa National Provident Fund, a driver licences and may even replace a Voters ID during election," he elaborated. And part of the on-going research if the ID can be used for immigration purposes or a passport.

Having one universal ID for a variety of government services such as Health, School ID, Drivers licence etc. will also translate to cost savings for government, he added.

Also, it will streamline the identification process considering the number of surnames used by Samoa's for verification, the Prime Minister says that National ID is the anti-dote to overcome the challenges experienced by the present system.

"The current system of furnishing IDs depending on different sources of documents for verification which are not limited to birth certificates are easily infiltrated by the criminal minds," stressed Tuilaepa. "But if we have our own electronic ID, security will be difficult to breach."

The session is for 2 days.

Public Servants mandated to resign

By: Nanai Taofiga Laveitiga Tuiletufuga

Public servants contemplating to run as Electoral Candidates in the 2021 General Elections will be mandated to resign.

A new amendment in the Electoral Act makes it compulsory for public servants including Judiciary officers and Judges to relinquish their government jobs, explains Electoral Commissioner, Faimalomatumua Mathew Lemisio.

The mandate is in the Electoral Act, says Electoral Commissioner clarifying that the Act prescribes if a Public Servant does not tender a resignation to pursue his or her political aspirations their status as government employee will automatically become void the minute they file their registration as an Electoral Candidate.

The law prescribes for public servants to resign six months before the polls.

To date, three government Chief Executive Officers have publicly declared their intention to run for office under the Human Rights Protection Party.

For the 2021 General Elections in April, candidates registration will commence on 12th October 2020 and will close 23rd of the month.

Govt. receives $3 million dividend from SPA

By: Asenati Taugasolo Semu

The Samoa Ports Authority (SPA) Monday presented a dividend of $3,040,914.00 to Government.

The cheque was presented to Prime Minister Tuilaepa Sailele Malielegaoi by the Deputy Chairman of SPA's Board of Directors, Tuatagaloa Shane Wulf.

Tuilaepa acknowledged the presentation by SPA and elaborated on the importance of the work of State Owned Enterprises in contributing to the Government's development agenda with dividend pay-outs.

"Government's long term vision is for Corporations and all state owned enterprises to turn a profit to contribute for the development of the country's economy," said the Prime Minister.

Tuatagaloa said this is the fourth year SPA's financial position has recorded a net profit which allowed the Authority to pay dividends to its shareholder, the Government of Samoa, as regulated under the Public Bodies Act.

"The dividend declared and approved by the SPA Board represents 35% of the Audited Net Profits of $8,688,327 for the Authority's financial year ending 30 June 2019," said Tuatagaloa.

"From 2016 to 2019, SPA has paid a total dividend of $10.4 million Tala to Government.

"As a state owned entity (SOE), the Authority is proud of its good financial record allowing it to honour its statutory responsibilities such as paying its dividend to assist the Government with its many developments.

"One of these developments according to Tuatagaloa is the relocation of the leading light for incoming vessels which is currently located at Palisi on the side of Mt. Vaea."

NEW NZ/UN PARTNERSHIP WILL ASSIST SAMOA AND 13 OTHER PACIFIC NATIONS

PR - Apia/Suva - The United Nations and New Zealand have agreed to a new partnership that promises to improve the health, lives and livelihoods of thousands of people across the Pacific, including in Samoa.

New Zealand has agreed to commit initial funding of NZ$24.7 million ($42.9 million SAT) for the NZ UN Pacific Partnership (UNPP), which will support UN-led activities in Samoa and 13 other Pacific Island countries. Over the next two and a half years, the money will be used to lift basic services, improve governance and enhance gender equality in line with the UN's sustainable development goals.

The new partnership will help Pacific governments to deliver more child vaccines, improve nutrition, provide quality early childhood education, make sexual and reproductive health services available to more women, and ensure that more births are registered. New Zealand's contribution will also focus on improving workplace safety and income for women market vendors. It will also support the strengthening of anti-corruption legislation and policies, and help provide more reliable data that will inform decision-making.

As well as Samoa, the new agreement will see assistance going to the Cook Islands, the Federated States of Micronesia, Fiji, Kiribati, Marshall Islands, Nauru, Niue, Palau, the Solomon Islands, Tokelau, Tonga, Tuvalu, and Vanuatu.

"New Zealand sees value in the role played by the UN in the region and wants to support it to deliver inclusive development for the Pacific," said H.E. Mr. Jonathan Curr, New Zealand High Commissioner to Fiji, at the official launch of the partnership today. "Nearly half of the partnership's activities this year will also directly support the Pacific's COVID-19 response."

"New Zealand and UN agencies want to ensure every dollar spent through the UNPP is going towards a better life for a woman, child or family in the Pacific."

UNDP, UNFPA, UNICEF and UN Women - four of the UN's 26 agencies in the Pacific - will work together to deliver the co-owned programme. "This is a new approach to New Zealand's long-standing partnership with the UN to support the development ambitions of countries in the Pacific," said Sanaka Samarasinha, UN Resident Coordinator for ten countries in the Pacific. "The initiative engages the combined assets of the UN system in a coordinated and coherent manner to make a difference in the lives of people who are most disadvantaged and vulnerable. Working efficiently and effectively together to ensure countries achieve the Sustainable Development Goals by 2030 is at the heart of the UN's reform agenda. It is even more urgent now as the COVID-19 pandemic threatens the development gains already made in the region."

"Pacific nations in general have enjoyed success in protecting their populations from the worst of COVID-19," said Simona Marinescu, UN Resident Coordinator for four countries in the Pacific. "But the pandemic and the measles crisis it before show just how important it is for communities to be resilient to shocks. This resilience is not achieved by reacting when emergencies happen - but through long-term and consistent development approaches, which will be supported by the NZ-UN Pacific Partnership."

Notes to editors

The UN has had a presence in Samoa since the country achieved independence in 1962. Today it works to help national governments achieve development and humanitarian targets, including the Sustainable Development Goals.

OEC prepares for Gagaifomauga #3 by-elections

By: Nanai Taofiga Laveitiga Tuiletufuga

The Office of the Electoral Commission, (OEC) is proceeding with plans for the Gagaifomauga #3 constituency by-election now that the Speaker of Parliament Leupepe Toleafoa Faafisi has issued a warrant declaring the seat vacant.

Registration for the constituent's new eligible voters and those yet to register since the last General Elections is scheduled to start Wednesday as a lead up to the upcoming by-election. Electoral Commissioner Faimalomatumua Mathew Lemisio told Savali.

The voters' registration will close July 31st before a date is set to accept registration of electoral candidates for the by-elections, he added.

The process will also include a legal review by the OEC Commissioner to determine if the candidates are eligible to contest the by-election.

However if by the close of the registration and subsequent Commissioner's legal review if need should there are no contenders, the by-election under law will be postponed by three months.

Faimalomatumua says that if this is the case than the Gagaifomauga #3 by-election will not take place due to the principal Electoral Act which mandates for no by-elections taking place six months prior to the General Elections,

However if there is one candidate, he or she will be officially declared as the uncontested winner and become the next Member of Parliament for Gagaifomauga #3.

The Electoral Constituency to date has a voter's enrolment of over 1,400.

The Bigger Picture - PM Tuilaepa

By: Nanai Taofiga Laveitiga Tuiletufuga

Limiting the number of sa'o (lead matai) to take charge of their respective family affairs has far reaching positive implications for families and the national security of the country.

It will be to the families benefit, instil respect, integrity and value for matai title holders but most importantly sustaining security and stability of the country, says Prime Minister Tuilaepa Sailele Malielegaoi.

"That is the bigger picture and vision by Government," he added.

Since this portion of the three legislative measures presently under national review is an issue raised during the public forums, the Prime Minister in his weekly Taimi ma le Palemia with TV1 (Samoa) at his Tuana'imato residence over the weekend did not dodge the concerns raised by issuing a detailed clarification.

"It's public knowledge that the massive bestowal of matai titles including sa'o titles is more than a common practise which to Government is degrading and defeats the cultural significance of the matai system and their leading role in their communities as the gatekeepers of peace and harmony to maintain stability on the village level," responded Tuilaepa.

On the national level, he explained that matais and the Village Councils, (Pulega a Alii ma Faipule) since as far as he can recall have acted as the Government's traditional eyes and ears in their respective communities.

"Matais also through their valuable contributions representing the voices and viewpoints of their respective Village Councils and communities are included in a range of government policies and legislative reforms which have contributed to the security and stability of Samoa," he continued.

"Village Councils also have aided without reservations the repeated calls for assistance from law enforcement agencies (Police and Attorney General's Office) when they are needed in delicate situations and their help is pivotal in restoring law and order. "And when it comes to national engagement to garner free expression of opinions and views from the people, the Pulega a Alii ma Faipule are on the frontline without absence."

That Prime Minister reiterated that this is the "bigger picture" supporting the legislative initiative taking into account that Government was impelled to initiate the propose changes in response to mounting concerns personally registered by families and villages with him and Government including Cabinet Ministers.

And he further noted that Government's priority concern is that by leaving the practise unchecked it could trigger unrest and instability on the village level, which in turn will provoke a chain reaction that will eventually compromise national security and stability of the country.

And to address these underlying issues, the Prime Minister says that through the proposed legislations, Government is seeking the country's say on how best to deal with the looming and to find a solidarity solution.

"As I have said time again, leaders who turn blind to what needs to be done in the best interest of the people but fail to do so is a sin and should not be a leader," he added.

"If they feel that limiting the number of sa'os in a family is not the answer, then no-one is stopping them from expressing their views with the Parliamentary Committee," urged Tuilaepa. "I am not intimidated from the response by villages which have publicly expressed their concerns opposing the legislative measures.

"That is there democratic and constitutional right. Also contrary to media concern that the pending legislations are linked to the use of customary land for commercial purposes, that is further from the truth."

He says that Ti'avaasue Patu Falefatu Sapolu, the longest serving Chief Justice since Samoa's Independence and now retired has publicly voiced his support for the legislative measures and the benefits it poses for the country as a whole.

"Even the customary land issue which Government has publicly reassured our country time and again that it will not be touched without constitutional amendments continues to be exploited by critics as a smokescreen to discredit the Government's genuine long term vision which stands to benefit the country," he reiterated.

At the end of the day, Tuilaepa is confident that when the dust cleared the same critics will never confess to their misjudgements and will also never acknowledge Government's ingenuity.

"This is quite normal taking to Government into account the number of public protests from the Tumua a Pule VAGST to the Road Switch which the country is now reaping the fruits of the Government's hard labour," he added.

"Samoa has its own set of priority areas, and they are not without their challenges and harsh lessons. Every challenge is an opportunity to learn and improve for the future, and that is the approach of government as issues such as these come to light."

Presently, the Parliament Committee reviewing the legislative and constitutional reforms is continuing its Public Forums in Upolu having completed similar public engagements in Savaii.

- 14.68 percent of foreign reserves ; or
- 9.41 percent of total exports of goods and services .

C. ISSUES AND CHALLENGES

1. Inflationary pressures continue to ease with headline inflation falling to 1.7 percent in May 2020 (after peaking at 4.7 percent in October 2018) and from 2.7 percent in May of last year, while the underlying inflation was at 1.8 percent. Inflationary expectations have come down in the short term with the current significant drop in global fuel prices given impacts of COVID19 but risks of natural disasters and climatic changes are always a constant threat to price stability, especially from the agriculture production prices.

2. The latest update on GDP statistics is up to March 2020 quarter, which points to an annual Real GDP growth of 0.7 percent which was well below the 2.3 percent growth in December 2019, but the same as the growth in December 2018. Despite the positive results of the Pacific Games in the September 2019 quarter, the slow-down in quarterly growths accounted for the adverse impacts of the Measles Outbreak in November-December 2019 that put the country in two days of lockdown, followed by the sudden back-to-back introduction of the COVID-19 outbreak.

3. With the continuous rise in number of deaths globally from the pandemic and its impacts on the local economy, given the lockdown of international borders and travel restrictions and containment measures in-place to protect and safeguard the Samoan people, the economy has been adversely affected with Samoa Bureau Statistics (SBS) pointing to a 0.7 percent growth at end March 2020. The adverse impact resulted to some extent, from lower monthly tourist arrivals recorded for January to March of 2020 with zero arrivals since April 2020, as well as the slow-down in tourism related businesses activities. The economy will be facing challenging times especially the tourism sector and its related services.

Samoa Economy as of May 2020

Like the rest of the world, Samoa is in uncharted waters, with our domestic economy facing challenging times ahead.

Given the current economic situation and outlook it is therefore vital that with fiscal consolidation being implemented, monetary policy remains accommodative to support economic recovery in the short term and sustainable economic growth over the medium term.

CENTRAL BANK OF SAMOA

4. Gross official foreign reserves stands at $572.79 million in May 2020, or around 7.8 months of imports cover, which is well above the Central Bank minimum benchmark of 4.0 months of imports and 6.3 month in May of last year. This high level of official reserves reflected the influx of government's inflows of financial assistance that have been received March and April for COVID-19 and project funds for targeted sectors from development partners. The receipt of Samoa's Rapid Credit Facility funds from the IMF in April has provided further support to the country's official foreign reserve levels. However, with the uncertainty of the effects of the pandemic and the unpredictability of when a vaccine could be effective and mass produced, there are several factors that could dwindle foreign reserves going forward if not managed properly. Close monitoring and managing of international reserves by the Central Bank will continue especially at this time. Appropriate actions will be taken to ensure reserves are adequately invested in relevant currency compositions and maturities to cater for Samoa's international trade and other foreign payment commitments.

D. RECOMMENDATIONS

1. The Committee is kindly requested to note that the Central Bank is continuing with its easing monetary policy stance.

2. Like the rest of the world, Samoa is in uncharted waters, with our domestic economy facing challenging times ahead. Given the current economic situation and outlook it is therefore vital that with fiscal consolidation being implemented, monetary policy remains accommodative to support economic recovery in the short term and sustainable economic growth over the medium term.

a. Thus, it is important that Government ministries continue to implement their budgeted expenditures and program on time, as outlined in the 2020/21 Government Budget already approved by Parliament which cover the expenditures to minimize adverse impacts of COVID19.

b. Critical for construction efforts to be timely in securing grants and concessional loan financing resources from multilateral financial institutions and development partners.

c. A short to medium term consideration for government to frontload grant financed development projects with higher local components as remedial measures – for development partners as an act of good governance to transparently post annual funding (planned and actual) that will stay in-country of grants and concessional loans.

d. That all government foreign funding are received into the Central Bank of Samoa (CBS) foreign accounts abroad while CBS will pay the Samoan equivalent into the government's local accounts using the CBS prevailing bank's exchange rates. (best public finance management practice for Small Island Developing States).

3. For the Government be well prepared and continue through the:

a. Ministry of Commerce, Industry and Labour (MCIL)
- To closely cooperate and collaborate with the commerce industry to ensure that they have sufficient stock at hand to cater for any change in public demands and for wholesalers and retailers to consider rationing where necessary.

- To ensure business activities and operations are vibrant and conducive in supporting the domestic economy during these challenging times, given the prominent contribution (1/3) of the commerce industry in driving Samoa's GDP.

b. Ministry of Communications and Information Technology (MCIT):
- To work closely and collaboratively with the Ministry of Education, Sports and Culture (MESC) to explore practical ways and affordable means nationally to effectively deliver education programmes and/or syllabus to the students in an event of a health emergency outbreak.

- To encourage the use of teleconference to participate in priority and important international meetings

c. Samoa Tourism Authority (STA):

- to work closely with the industry to develop a policy package for the industry to cope with the adverse effects of the COVID19, especially from the closure of international border and containment measures in place by the government.

- Given the uncertainty on when international tourism may resume due to COVID-19 international travel restrictions, to encourage accommodation providers to charge accordingly to local market conditions to enhance the domestic tourism activities where appropriate to support their financial viability in the short run, and continue employing staff especially at this point in time.

d. Ministry of Health (MOH) to:

- Continue to engage in more awareness campaigns for health promotions and social distancing;

5. Inspire public sector employees and members of the public who can afford to share what they have through spending generously to stimulate the economy and keep the working population employed.

6. The Central Bank of Samoa

a. to continuously monitor the domestic economy and its outlook and provide the adequate economic advice to Government where appropriate;

b. to continuously monitor the quality of assets of the commercial banks and non-bank financial institutions (NFIs) to ensure their soundness and stability in the financial system;

c. to encourage Government and government bodies:

i. to continue to use the Central Bank to channel through any large foreign receipts (financial inflows) to assist with building and maintaining an adequate level of the country's foreign reserves.

ii. to continue to make payments (financial outflows) through the Central Bank for favourable exchange rate gains consistent with good public finance management practice.

d. while mindful of SNPF, ACC and UTOS' roles and responsibilities, encourage these institutions to invest locally given the current growth level and also to ensure domestic employment for today and the future. This action may also assist Samoa to be more resilient on the impact of an exogenous shock such as to be pandemic resilient.

A'o tatou feagai pea ma lu'itau o le Fa'ama'i o le Koviti-19 i leni vaitau, tatou te toe to manatu i o tatou taa sa maliliu i le Fa'amai o le 1918. O se tasi o lu'itau tele i lenā vaitau, o le leai lea oni fa'amaumau-ga ma mautu, e fa'amaonia ai o tatou taa na maliliu, i le mala tele. O se tasi lea o aoga sili o le National ID i le tatou Malo, o le a vave ai ona fa'ailoa tagata ua puapugatia i taimi o fa'alavelave fa'afuase'i, aemaise mala fa'a-le-na-

Ae a fa'apefa le lautele o le atunu'u, e le'o lavea i ia vaega ua ta'ua?

O le taimi nei, a fia fai sau tusi tupe, po'o sau nonoga tupe, po'o se atina'e e te tusi talosaga i ai e te fia auai, ua tapā lava le Pepa Fa'amaonia aloaia. A lafo mai sau seleni mai atunu'u mamao, e tapā lava sou Pepa Fa'amaonia. Ua le gata i le Pepa Fanau, ae ua mana'omia foi se ID e iai sou ata, ina ia malosi ma atoatoa le fa'amaumau-ga, e iloa ai o oe moni lava lea.

Good evening to your team again,

I acknowledge with much appreciation your great effort in putting together the Inception report, as well as the webinar for this first two days of public consultations.

While time is very critical for the implementation of this project, with the CoVID-19 overshadowing our efforts, I wish you will still be able to deliver in the best of your abilities the benefits and challenges of this Project in these two days for our people to understand fully the main purpose and outcome of this project.

I wish you well in these two days of deliberations.

Soifua ma ia manuia.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Unlawful & Fraudulent Actions of Former Employees

Samoa Sports Lotto hereby issues this press statement to clarify and clear up the confusion and misinformation surrounding the above matter for its customers.

As a result of its internal investigations Samoa Sports Lotto had lodged criminal complaints against a number of staff employed as teller/sales operators that have been implicated for defrauding and stealing from Samoa Sports Lotto and its TMS games customers.

Those identified and referred to Police for their further investigation and subsequent action have now been formally charged by Police with theft and other unlawful acts. Those charged with theft will include the former employee responsible for the social media posts attacking Samoa Sports lotto. We have also filed additional criminal complaints against this same person and members of her family for defamation, harassment and intimidation as well as threats made against the staff and property of Samoa Sports lotto. It is unfortunate that this investigation has been hampered and pre-empted by unbalanced reporting by certain media outlets who chose to publish various social media posts on this matter without verification of all the facts of this matter, which has resulted in misinformation in the public domain, thus undermining and harming the credibility of Samoa Sports lotto and its TMS partners and their games.

This has not only caused confusion, but detracted from the facts of this matter, which is that - Samoa sports lotto and a handful of its TMS customers were the victims of the unlawful actions of some dishonest staff employed as tellers/ operator and sales persons. As such, the company and its TMS Global Partners are exploring all legal options available to us against persons or parties that have undermined the reputation of Samoa Sports Lotto and our TMS Australian games.

Our TMS customers have been advised during the course of this matter of this investigation and options exercised to their satisfaction in accordance with the terms and conditions of their participation in TMS games as per legal notices and disclaimers posted at all our branches and agencies. We thank our TMS games customers for their assistance with our investigation and for their patience and understanding in this matter and their continued support and confidence in the integrity of our TMS games and Samoa Sports lotto, with TMS game sales remaining high despite the last 4 weeks of confusion and disruption.

This matter is now before the Courts for due process as such no further comment will be issued by Samoa Sports Lotto. We hope that this clarifies the issues and dispels any further confusion surrounding this matter.

THANK YOU.

O se fuafuaga talafeagai lea ua fa'ailoa mai e le Malo. I le taimi nei, a tatou tilotilo i le tupulaga talavou i le malosi o le facebook, e mata'utia. Silasila fo'i i aso ua tuna'i, e seāseā ni aoga omai fufusu i totonu o le taulaga, ua laki nei ua mafai ona fo'ia e le Malo fusuaga ia e masani ona tutupu. E mafua ona tutupu nei mea, ona o lea e tu'u atu e mātua, e fa'aoga le initaneti e fai ai meāoga, ae le'o iloa atu e 'ese fo'i le mea la e fai mai le isi itu.
